1 Start communicating

Start communicating with others and self, continuously giving (investing) more than you gain.

Apply bartered transactions as value exchanged. Thanks for what I received, thanks to all of you and what can I do for you six times over called the Six Shooter.

Simply experience communications from where you are right now in current relationships, skills and resources; bridging the gaps internal to you and external to you as required by the action and project at hand. You apply the many developed and proven processes within the safety and protection afforded you by your family, community and the web.

Many of these processes can be accessed on the Web and is a simple click away.

The vital communication building blocks of intra-personal and inter-personal skills and competencies are best applied in real, urgent, compelling, 'cannot afford to lose' and cash outcomes scenarios.

It happens in the here and now of daily life as depicted by Unre Visagie's STORGGIES he learnt with HP, followed by many stories since then where companies were built and lessons learnt from and in owner families.

1.1 We, to get started, apply processes. Never again, stop communicating and sharing with others, developing communication skills and related competencies.

1.2 Go continuously from Unconsciously Unaware to Subconsciously Aware.

1.3 Visit Aleph & Partner websites for many experienced communication tools and methods we found useful. <click here to open Aleph in a new window>

See document: Alephsynergy.com

1.4 On alephsynergy.com we share coaching stories and invite you to share yours.

1.5 A normal place to start is with your diary choices and highs and lows communicated to interested and involved parties.

2 Get organized

Get organized and grow the chosen projects you engaged.

The participation in project groups with common and selfish interests drives all of us to deliver results and repeat the feat many times.

Each of us organizes more or less, given our beliefs and values. The participation in project groups with common and selfish interests drives all of us to deliver results and repeat the feat many times. You get committed beyond yourself in chosen situations and then your only exit is to deliver within the group. You DO IT!

You choose the projects driven by your talents and passions and thus create the future requirements to and become organized in your attracted groups.

Many of us do not really become organized by ourselves, yet we are organized in projects of our own choosing. Our individual stories are the easiest way for me to communicate the experiences.

2.1 Be part of project groups engaged around your interests and get organized in groups.

2.2 Being organized happens in families, communities, corporate, church, organizations, institutions and projects. Become part of the activities and projects suited and available to you to keep going.

2.3 Visit Nicholas's website

See document: www.nicholas.alephsynergy.com

Fun and work lost all boundaries. Nicholas applies his passions and talents for gain in bartered value exchanged, in agreed projects chosen, with a selected larger team and by Nicholas.

3 Be engaged

Become engaged, by adding value, with WWW and your community (Existing Working Structures) thus gaining access to resources.

Barter transactions understood and applied ensure you are always welcome to engage the required resources, knowledge and experience.

We apply the talents and passions within ourselves to engage resources in family and the community (Civic and civil) we are part of, Locally, Regionally, Nationally and Internationally. We engage through individuals who are part of the current WORKING STRUCTURES and through the WWW.

We fully engage and live in our local community while we fully engage and exchange value with the Global community. The experiences share on the Aleph&Partners web sites are cases in point.

3.1 Enterprise activities can be very wide and easy to engage. We can become part of the great enterprise system by investing more of what we have, to gain the returns we want.

3.2 We learn and acquire barter transaction skills and competencies. We can then always, anywhere and at all times engage and gain access.

3.3 Visit Bongani's website

See document: www.bonganik.e-bio.co.za

Bongani invested with his attracted investors and gain access to resources and bartered transactions. He is now unstoppably on his road to become a business building consultant. The competencies and experiences from the group around him grows and nurtures his skills while he passes it on to others.

4 The joy of applying your talents!

Each of us experiences the joy, which follows the application of our talents and passions in daily experiences and current projects.

WOW! The dreams, talents and passions were always inside of each of us.

Each of us needs to apply our talents and passions applied to create a fully functional family, community, civic and business environment. The barter transactions create growth from where you are right now. It's only a click away.

4.1 The actions you take and projects you engage in will drive your choices, aligned with your talents and passions to create and live your dreams.

5 STORRGIES to 'Shopping Shelf'

Now you are growing your STORRGIES (Skills, Talents, Opportunities, Resources, Relationships, Gifts, Intelligencies, Experiences and Spirals) into a Shopping Shelf.

Experience growing capacity in your 'Shopping Shelf' and the fun of it will drive you for life.

The world's communities represent a supermarket where you apply your talents and passions. In this supermarket, you display your competencies, develop relationships and identify opportunities.

5.1 Every transaction and engagement will grow your STORRGIES.

5.2 Visit Selvin's website.

See document: www.selvinm.e-bio.co.za

Selvin engaged and gained access applying his talents and passions as shown by the spreadsheet around transactions. The model depicting his investors and his consumption can be found on the Web.

6 E-bio processes

E-bio offers processes and guidelines to experience and deliver the desired outcomes.

Now let us do it! Simply apply the web processes in your groups in work, family, church, culture, civic, education, health and leisure activities. The stories shared by many should become easy guidelines for you.

6.1 Visit the e-bio websites

See document: www.e-bio.co.za

6.2 Here is a typical Tool applied as a process: The idea is to apply the colors driving your emotions, intent, actions, expectations, etc. You grow in communications RIGHT NOW and grow in knowledge you can share.

See document: colors.htm

6.3 Writing skills and English literacy is achieved from the WWW, as well as individuals in Working Structures

6.4 Web utilization literacy is experienced in producing your website as a link to your future 'Shopping Shelf'.

6.5 Community resources are accessed with bartered value exchange transactions.

7 Create and Sell

Now create and sell your experiences on the web.

Each of us invest in others and gain multiplied value from many to grow our contribution. It becomes an ever-accelerating process. You now joined and experience what happens in owner families and corporates.

7.1 Hook into popular issues of the day that sparks your interest.

7.2 The story of "The Alchemist" by Paulo Coelho is true. The gold is where you are sleeping, when you dream of that gold...

The treasure is where you dream about it. Dig where you are sleeping as you dream.

7.3 The concepts in "Prayer of Jabez" by Bruce Wilkinson adds to your STORRGIES applied in the productive world.

7.4 "Purpose Driven Life" written by Rick Warren show how to live the inner purpose.

7.5 Apply what "Rich Dad Poor Dad" written by Robert Kiyosaki teaches, in your STORRGIES, business, community and the WWW.

7.6 Continuously developing entrepreneurial competencies to create success in business and in careers.

7.7 Career owners apply these competencies to grow from good earnings to super earnings.
